THE HUMAN DRAMA OF ABORTION

A Global Search for Consensus

By Anibal Faúndes and José Barzelatto

"Those who go through the pages of this easy-to-read book, will see that, despite existing strong differences of opinion, it is possible to agree about some basic principles that could allow us to reach an 'overlapping consensus.' Putting into practice the basic elements of this consensus will minimize the suffering that so many women have to endure each day in every corner of the world." - Isabel Allende

"Anibal Faúndes and José Barzelatto are two eminent physicians, respected worldwide for their research and activities in numerous international organizations. They are also persons of profound wisdom and great empathy. In this book, easy to read, they combine their personal experience with an analysis of studies that look into all aspects of abortion. This book should be obligatory reading for any person who wants to have an opinion about abortion. And everybody should have an opinion, because abortion can affect us all, directly or indirectly, whether we want it to or not." - Carmen Barroso, International Planned Parenthood Federation Director for the Western Hemisphere

"For obstetricians the issue of abortion is particularly painful because, as emphasized in this book, our daily work is to defend the life of the fetus. For this same reason, I believe every colleague in our specialty should read the pages of this book that describe the evidence available on how to effectively reduce the number of abortions and describe with equanimity and respect the different positions facing the problem." - Araldo Acosta, President, International Federation of Gynecology and Obstetrics

Anibal Faúndes is Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Campinas, São Paulo, Brazil, and Senior Researcher at CEMICAMP, an internationally renowned center for research in reproductive health. He is currently Chair of the Committee on Sexual and Reproductive Rights of the International Federation of Gynecology and Obstetrics.

José S. Barzelatto, currently Vice President of the Center for Health and Social Policy in San Francisco, served from 1985 to 1989 as Director of the UNDP/WHO/World Bank Special Program for Research and Training in Human Reproduction and from 1989 to 1997 as Director of the Reproductive Health and Population Program of the Ford Foundation.
